

One-time film screening: “Free Trip to Egypt”, Friday Nov. 15, 2015

Free Trip to Egypt is a journey into the unknown, a film about the transformational power of human connection, and a remarkable experiment in kindness and empathy.

It started with an idea, a dream to build bridges through kindness and document the journey in a film.

A Canadian Egyptian Entrepreneur living in Switzerland (Tarek Mounib) wanted to offer a free vacation to Egypt to Americans concerned about an Islamic threat... He paired up with an American Muslim YouTube celebrity (Adam Saleh) and they found a group of open-minded Americans courageous enough to come and discover what lay beyond the media images, but there were twists and turns along the way...

Film trailer:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OitVw2gE6aQ>

Day: Friday Nov. 15, 2019

Time: 7:00 pm

Admission: $7

Place:

Indianapolis Bahá'í Center

3740 W. 62nd St

Indianapolis, IN 46268

Light snacks provided